Synopsis

Our Miss Brooks is a delightful stage adaptation based on the 1940's radio show and the 1950's television sitcom of the same name. Miss Connie Brooks has plenty of teacher troubles, and her "escape" is in dreaming about her vacation. She has travel folders on several Caribbean cruises which she discusses with the basketball coach who owns his own little sailboat. Miss Brooks suddenly sees that perhaps he's "the man" for her. She's glad she isn't putting on the school play this year so she won't have to fight him for use of the gym. Then the ax falls. The play is thrust upon her! A battle royal develops. The coach's star athlete, Ted, gives up the basketball team to play the leading role in the play. The daughter of the school board president is determined to play opposite Ted, but she reads her lines so poorly that Miss Brooks gives the role to an attractive nobody with real talent. In spite of the controversy
