Grading

Cooperation and participation during activities will be considered in the evaluation process of the student. Students will receive 5 points a day for wearing proper attire and shoes for the activity; displaying an appropriate attitude; being prompt to class; and displaying their best effort during an activity. One point will be deducted for inappropriate attire, poor attitude, tardiness, or not listening/following directions. Students may be deducted multiple points for refusal to participate, putting the health and safety of others at risk, inappropriate language, or demonstrating more than one misbehavior from the previous list.

Students will also be assessed on the mastery of fundamental skills and content knowledge of each unit. Other assessments may include peer evaluations, quizzes/tests, entry slips, exit slips, skills tests, reports, and handwritten assignments.

If a student is absent for more than 5 days, they will receive a zero for participation. They will also receive a zero for any missing quizzes or assignments due that day. The students may complete a physical activity form to make up for any days missed. Excessive absence will jeopardize credit for the class.

In the situation where a student is limited in physical participation, such as injury or health problems, the student must have a note from a doctor, physical trainer, athletic trainer, or other medical professional to excuse them from certain activities. If a student is limited in physical participation for a prolonged period of time, the student may not receive credit for the class.
